VITAMIN | Niacin

01

On February 19, some factories slightly raised the price of niacinamide and signed limited orders, and the market transactions began to become active. Previously, niacinamide had fallen sharply and was suspended. Of course, the market price was USD4.6-4.8/KG, and the subsequent price is expected to stop falling and stabilize.

AMINO ACID | DL-methionine 02

Evonik has raised the net price of MetAMINO (DL-methionine 99% feed grade) by up to 7%, effective immediately. Methionine factories have recently raised their quotations, but the market has been relatively cautious in signing orders. Prices are relatively high, orders have weakened, and people are mainly on the sidelines.

API |

03

Recently, Xintiandi received the "Notice of Drug GMP Inspection Results of Henan Provincial Drug Administration" issued by Henan Provincial Drug Administration. The inspection scope is tadalafil, and the inspection time is from December 12 to December 14, 2024. The inspection conclusion is that the company's related products and production lines meet the requirements of the "Good Manufacturing Practice for Pharmaceuticals (Revised in 2010)". The passing of the drug GMP compliance inspection for tadalafil API will help promote the domestic production and marketing of the product, and is expected to improve the company's performance.

FOOD ADDITIVE | Xanthan Gum

04

Recently, the price of xanthan gum has remained stable, and manufacturers have delivered goods normally. The transaction price of xanthan gum in the domestic market has stabilized at around USD2.8-3/KG. The product price has bottomed out in recent years, and it is predicted that the price may rise in the future.
